Component Descriptions

See Page 20 of the Operating Instructions.

Panasonic

Hearing Instrument Quick Tips for Use

Model: WH-416KZ, WH-412LZ, WH-409MZ

- Wearing the Hearing Instrument
- Removing the Hearing Instrument
- Eartip
- Care and Maintenance
- Inserting/Removing Zinc Air Battery
- Component Descriptions

• The intent of this Quick Tips is to give information on how to handle and maintain the Panasonic Hearing Instrument in a simplified and comprehensible description by using photos. Be sure to carefully read and understand the operating instructions as well before using your hearing instrument. The featured instrument might vary slightly in appearance from your instrument.

Inserting/Removing Zinc Air Battery

Replace the battery by opening or closing the battery door.

See Page 21 of the Operating Instructions.

Inserting/Removing Zinc Air Battery

Pull the battery door outward with your forefinger.

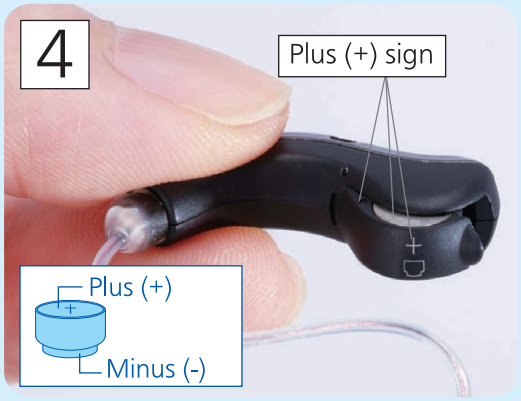
See Page 21 of the Operating Instructions.

Inserting/Removing Zinc Air Battery

Insert a new battery or replace the battery.

See Page 21 of the Operating Instructions.

Inserting/Removing Zinc Air Battery



Place the new battery in the compartment with the plus (+) sign facing up.
Your hearing aid uses a size 10 battery.

See Page 21 of the Operating Instructions.

Eartip

Make sure that the eartip is firmly attached to the receiver. If the eartip is not inserted until the indication line, push it with your fingers.

See Page 27 of the Operating Instructions.

Care and Maintenance

Keep the hearing aid clean.

- When cleaning your hearing aid, wipe it gently with a soft cloth. Never use organic solvents such as alcohol, paint thinner, or benzene.
- Wipe off the dirt, oil and sweat that is left on the hearing aid with a clean soft cloth. Let it dry in a well-ventilated or breezy area. Then, put it in the supplied carrying case, avoiding exposure to direct sunlight, high temperatures and humidity.
- Clogged eartips may obstruct the sound or affect the hearing quality. When cleaning, consult your dispenser.

See Page 17 of the Operating Instructions.

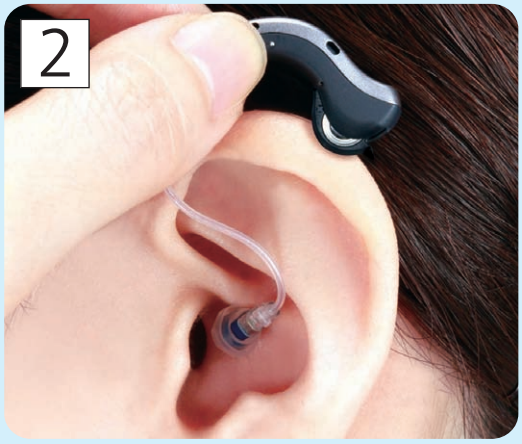
YAH416KZC-0
2010-05-24

Wearing the Hearing Instrument

Hold the main unit as shown in the image.

See Page 22 of the Operating Instructions.

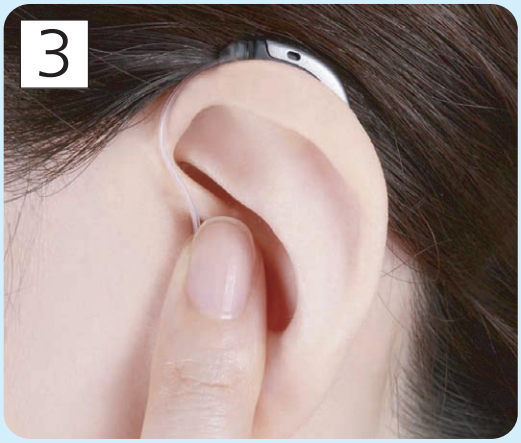
Wearing the Hearing Instrument



Position the hearing instrument behind your ear.

See Page 22 of the Operating Instructions.

Wearing the Hearing Instrument



Insert the eartip in your ear.
(After positioning the hearing instrument at the right place, turn on the hearing instrument.)

See Pages 22 and 23 of the Operating Instructions.

Removing the Hearing Instrument

Hold the receiver unit and pull it straight out.
(Make sure that the hearing instrument is powered off.)

See Pages 23 and 24 of the Operating Instructions.